

Celebrate J John Cohen

Join us to celebrate JJ Cohen's extraordinary life as a scientist, teacher, colleague and friend.
March 3 & 4, 2022

RSVP to receive event details and email questions

1 Attend the Memorial Celebration on March 4, 4:30-7pm MT, in-person and on Zoom. A video of this celebration will be posted online for later viewing.

2 Share your memories
Please upload your favorite memories on video, or email with photos and written stories. Your contributions will be shared at the Memorial Celebration and shared online. Don't delay, we want your input in time for the celebration!

3 Come to Café Sci
JJ started Café Sci in the US and made it a place to set one's curiosity free. Attend the first Café Sci since the pandemic: March 3, 6:30pm MT, in-person only.

4 Learn from JJ's F1 (daughter)
Zoë Cohen, PhD, will give the Keynote address at the Academy of Medical Educators' Symposium titled, An Educator's Journey: From Student to Teacher to Student. March 4, 12pm MT, in-person and on Zoom.

5 Continue his legacy. Donate.
Keep JJ's legacy of curiosity alive by contributing to a fund in his name, which will support a basic science teaching award and a Chair in medical education. www.giving.cu.edu/JJCohen
